in recognition of the successful completion of the RedRover Readers Professional Development Workshop: “Building Empathy, Connection, and Literacy in the Classroom”

— Five (5) Training Hours Completed —

During the RedRover Readers workshop, teachers and volunteers learned how to implement the RedRover Readers curriculum and engage children in critical thinking discussions, listening and reflection activities designed to promote empathy, respect and responsibility. The workshop included training on how to use power of narratives, specific questioning strategies and reciprocal teaching methods to access children’s imagination to promote children’s perspective-taking abilities and critical thinking skills.
